

Thirteen things that I want to say

Homeward Bound

or

An Exercise in Collecting Beginnings

Lizzie Ridout

Handwritten text on a piece of paper, possibly a letter or a page from a book. The text is written in cursive and is partially obscured by a finger.

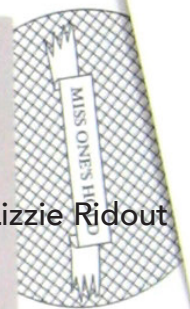

CORRESPONDENCE.

thought by means of letters. A Letter is a social and personal relations: as, Letters of Aff of Condolence, in fact, all letters not of a paper is now almost universally used. to three sizes, namely: 4 by 6 inches.
Commercial Note, all of which have four p not good usage favours white-use. One nearly square

everything in its place

Image © Lizzie Ridout

illings, do not spend more than 10/11

should the lady upon whom you call. ne, you may turn down one corner of gnify that you have called personally s variously interpreted, sometimes that the as been left also for the daughters of the house□, or that the mother who called has been accompanied by her daughter□

J. H. M.

221. Potato-Snow, a favourite way of cooking Potatoes.— Choose white, mealy, smooth potatoes; skin them; boil them carefully, and when they crack pour off the water, and put them to dry on the trivet till quite dry and powdery. Rub them through a coarse wire-sieve on the dish they are to go to table on; and do not move it or the flakes will fall and flatten.

mm

when sleep broke me

Domestic Hints.
... and everything in its place
... do not spend more than 10/11½.

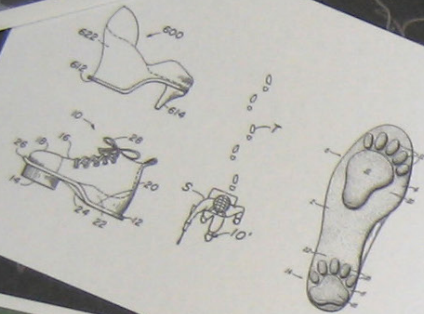

Domestic Hints.

everything and everything in its place things, do not spend more than 10/11 do not spend more than 10/114 life again, and will be occasioned. ... fine sand to kill birds without when so desired by naturalists, or for use

After d

William H. D.

should the lady upon whom you call,
one you may turn down one corner of,
sincerely that you have called personally, is seriously interpreted, sometimes that the has been left also for the daughters of the house), or that the mother who called has been
accompanied by her daughter.

CONVERSATIONS WITH ANNA

221. Potato-Snow, a favourite way of cooking Potatoes.— Choose white, mealy, smooth potatoes; skin them; boil them carefully, and when they crack pour off the water, and put them to dry on the trivet till quite dry and powdery. Rub them through a coarse wire-sieve on the dish they are to go to table on; and do not move it or the flakes will fall and flatten.

Image © Lizzie Ridout