

IN DENIAL

The moment has gone, revolution has failed. Again. The camp has been evicted, the posters taken down, we are in denial and claim the higher moral ground.

The world works like this:
build it up, tear it down,
hope against the odds,
deal with the smack in the face.
Nothing is up for debate.

© Rupert M Loydell