The server chooses which side to serve from. At least one foot should be in the service box. The serve must hit the front wall first.

The rally continues until:
1. a player hits it out or down.
2. the striker swings and fails to hit it.
3. the ball bounces twice.

Only the server can score points. A game is played until 9, unless there is an 8-8 tie. The receiver then chooses whether to go to 9 or 10. Unlike tennis, lines are out
