

An abstract painting featuring a grid of black lines. Within the grid, there are large red circles and smaller blue circles. The background is white with some orange and greyish tones. The overall style is expressive and somewhat chaotic.

The Tower of Babel

Rupert Loydell

limited edition book-in-a-box comprising an anthology of poetry, an essay, and a set of twenty four original print postcards. Numbered special edition wooden boxes also contain one original painting a limited edition hand-stamped book-in-a-box edited by Rupert Loydell, including a set of original print postcards, an essay, and an anthology of poems featuring: Philip Terry, Sheila E Murphy, Andy Brown, rob mclennan, A.C. Evans, H.L. Hix, Angela Topping, Paul Sutton, Peter Dent, Camille Martin, Ian Seed, David H.W. Grubb, Seren Adams, Andrew Moorhead, Jane Routh, John Mingay, Luke Kennard, Steven Waling, Alan Halsey, Peter Gillies, Bill O'Brien, Mike Ferguson, David Hart, Martin Stannard, Rupert M. Loydell, Mark Goodwin, Natasha Loydell, Ira Lightman

January 2013

Individually numbered special edition of 25 wooden boxes including one original painting, £30

ISBN: 978-1-909506-01-5

Limited edition of 500 cardboard boxes, £15

ISBN: 978-1-909506-00-8

enquiries to: nikolai@likethispress.co.uk orders at:

likethispress.co.uk/publications/rupertloydell

LIKE THIS PRESS

www.likethispress.co.uk