

LOCAL CULTURE

It is time to make organic soup online with psychic Diana and taste it virtually. No-one will be harmed in the process and the vegetables enjoy the work spent prepping, perhaps more than tuning in to the recipe, which is beamed into the kitchen via empathy, telepathy and a glass of fine white wine. It is all happening, despite lockdown, although our village has got off lightly because it was built on ley lines and uses renewable energy and recycled ideas. Tomorrow there will be a silent poetry reading and the book club will discuss a novel that we haven't read. Look out for news of next weekend's great events.

© Rupert M Loydell