Reflection: Ayatori Residency 2023

It was a great experience for the students, to work in such an experimental and creative environment where there were so many specialisms coming together. Documenting an artwork such as this is challenging, there was a genuine sense of witnessing an emergence. They had to follow their instincts and improvise instead of following a tight production plan. From a technical perspective they had to capture dancers in the near dark conditions of the projections, become invisible during live performances, and direct interviews with all the contributors. A creatively intense and very rewarding residency.
