Everything
looks
the same...

but it's DIFFERENT.

Moving forward...

from one place...

...to another.

A photograph of a rustic stone wall made of irregular, light-colored stones. At the base of the wall, several terracotta pots are lined up, containing various green plants and small pink and yellow flowers. A shadow of a person is cast onto the wall from the right side. The scene is brightly lit, suggesting a sunny day.

A place to stay

but for how long?

Life is about how you perceive it.

A beautiful distraction,

nature,

waves,

calms

the mind.

Breathe,

Shower,

Dress
up,

Relax,

Show
up.

Somewhere,

something

good

will come to us.

How
you feel in a day
is momentary.

Like a ray of hope, a ray of sunshine appears.

When the body
needs to rest

Silent tears

Awkward
time.

And finally...

...a new

BEGINNING.
