

Images: Earth pigments collected and processed in North Devon by artist Peter Ward.

“A Nation that destroys its soils destroys itself.” Franklin D. Roosevelt

Soil Culture

A Forum over 3 days in July:
2–5 July 2014
 Falmouth University

We are inviting all those who have an interest in soil, art and education to join us at Falmouth University for our Soil Culture Forum.

In addition to films, art events, presentations and some good local food, there will be a series of creative workshops where you will be able to touch the earth and learn about the different ways in which artists use it. Prepare to experiment, play and get a little bit dirty!

For more information or to register for the Forum visit:
<http://soilculture.wordpress.com>